ABOUT ME

I am a Game Developer with over 2 years of experience building high-performance browser games. I specialize in PixiJs and Cocos Creator along with Phaser and Unity. Focusing on scalable architectures and optimizing rendering for low-end mobile devices. Beyond core gameplay, I also like to build reusable systems and utility tools to accelerate development and workflows.

EXPERIENCE

RED APPLE TECHNOLOGIES - KOLKATA

Jr. Game Developer - MARCH 2024 - CURRENT

- Engineered and deployed multiple high-performance HTML5 mini-games and interactive prototypes using PixiJs, PhaserJS and Cocos Creator.
- Streamlined studio workflow by developing a custom responsive utility library and standardized project templates for Cocos Creator, significantly accelerating game prototyping.
- Optimized cross-device mobile and web performance by applying advanced memory management techniques and efficient rendering, resulting in reduced game load times and smoother framerates.
- Built robust game architectures by implementing scalable design patterns, efficient caching strategies, and foundational unit testing to ensure maintainable codebases.
- Maintained high code quality and stability across all projects through debugging, profiling, and standardized version control (Git) practices.
